

A watercolor portrait of a woman's face, rendered in a soft, painterly style. The face is a warm, brownish-tan color. The eyes are large and expressive, with bright turquoise irises and dark, well-defined pupils. The eyelids are painted with a light, airy touch. The lips are full and painted in a rich, warm brown color. The overall composition is a close-up, focusing on the facial features. The background is a mix of soft, blended colors, including shades of grey and blue, suggesting a background or hair.
