

Nina Johnson

An abstract geometric artwork composed of various shades of blue and white. The composition features sharp, angular shapes and planes that create a sense of depth and perspective, reminiscent of a modern architectural interior or a stylized landscape. The colors transition from light, airy blues to deeper, more saturated tones, creating a harmonious and balanced visual effect.

ABOUT NINA JOHNSON

Nina Johnson is a contemporary art gallery committed to elevating exceptional artists and their work. Founded by Nina Johnson in 2007, we are both a pillar of Miami's contemporary art community and an internationally recognized voice known for our wide-ranging and intuitive program.

Our mission is to champion exceptional artists making unique work — always forming long-term partnerships through deep, intentional connections. Our approach is artist-driven, rooted in an appreciation for historical context and the physical practice of making and exhibiting artwork. We have produced renowned exhibitions by a broad range of artists from around the world, including Germane Barnes, Judy Chicago, Patrick Dean Hubbell, Francesca DiMattio, Rochelle Feinstein, Emmett Moore, Eamon Ore-Giron, Woody De Othello, Katie Stout, and Nicole Wittenberg.

Our gallery is located in a four building compound in Miami's vibrant Little Haiti neighborhood and features a traditional exhibition space and a two-story residence in the backyard.

SAVANNAH KNOOP

Savannah Knoop is a NY-based artist, and writer.

Knoop's practice traces questions of intimacy, choreography, and power dynamics.

In 2001, Savannah Knoop founded the clothing line Tinc, which ran until 2009. From 2009-2016 Knoop co-hosted the monthly queer audio-visual party WOAHMONE. They received their BA at CUNYBa under the mentorship of Vito Acconci, and their MFA at Virginia Commonwealth University in Sculpture+Extended Media.

They have shown and performed at the Whitney, MoMA, the ICA Philadelphia, the Leslie Lohman Museum, David Winton Bell Gallery at Brown University, Nina Johnson Gallery in Miami, and Nicelle Beauchene in New York.

In 2007, they published their memoir Girl Boy Girl: How I Became JT LeRoy (Seven Stories Press) and adapted it into a screenplay, co-producing the resulting feature-length film JT LeRoy (Universal Pictures, 2019) directed by Justin Kelly, and starring Kristen Stewart and Laura Dern. Alongside Brontez Purnell, Knoop is working to adapt his novel, Since I Laid My Burden Down, into a feature length film of the same title.

Knoop has written essays for the LA Review of Books, 032C, Dazed, Critical Correspondence, and Cultured Magazine.

RACHEL MARTIN

Rachel Martin is an enrolled Tlingít multi-disciplinary artist who lives and works in Queens, NY.

Her work often explores tribal identity, intersectional feminism and Indigenous sovereignty through the use humor and playfulness to ensure her ancestors stories are told from a multi-dimensional place.

Rachels work will often merge traditional Northwest Coast iconography and modern matriarchal figures, fish and animals to tell the stories of today while honoring the oral history of her people that has been passed down from generation to generation.

In addition to her contemporary art practice, Martins is a beginning level Tlingit language student. Her works are often inspired by the overlay of English and Tlingit concepts of family, home, and humor.

NATHLIE PROVOSTY

Nathlie Provosty (b. 1981, Cincinnati, Ohio) is a visual artist based in New York, whose work is engaged with materiality and perception. The artist uses subtle, highly tactile qualities of oil paint that oscillate visually and conceptually due to the painting's multi-referential imagery, physical interaction with light & the environment, and continuous spatial shifts. Her first one-person exhibition in New York opened in 2012 at an experimental artist-run gallery called 1:1, and she has since exhibited nationally and internationally including presentations at the ICA Milano, Italy (2023), Risorgimento Museum in Turin, Italy (2018-19), Nathalie Karg Gallery in New York (2022, 2019, 2018, 2016), and Apalazzo Gallery in Italy (2020-21, 2017); Group exhibitions include Gagosian Gallery, London (2023), the Santa Barbara Museum of Art, CA (2020), the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art (2019), Kunsthall Stavanger, Norway (2018), Colby Museum of Art, ME, curated by Alex Katz (2017), and the Washington University Museum, DC (2017). The artist will be exhibiting work a solo exhibition at Nina Johnson Gallery in Miami on February 22nd, 2024.

ESTEFANIA PUERTA

Estefania Puerta is interested in what is gained and lost in the process of recontextualizing materials. Her practice is rooted in worldmaking, shapeshifting, border crossing, and language failure. Her research in psychoanalysis as it relates to the history of hysteria, natural medicine, folklore, and personal histories of immigration and undocumentaion in the U.S. questions what is considered "natural" and "alien. Puerta was recently awarded the 2023-2024 Rome Prize by the American Academy in Rome. Her work has been exhibited at Proyecto N.A.S.A.L (CDMX and Guayaquil), Fortnight Institute (NYC), Micki Meng (SF), Species (ATL), and was included in the New England Triennial at DeCordova Sculpture Park and Museum. Puerta received her MFA from Yale School of Art. She was born in Colombia and currently lives and works between Vermont and New York.
