Jane Corrigan

Jane Corrigan (b.1980, Shawville, Quebec) is a painter based in Brooklyn, New York. Corrigan's subject matter often comprises feminine or androgynous figures grappling with an internal and external world that, like them, is rapidly changing. Inspired by the artworks of Honore Daumier, Francisco Goya, and Balthus, Corrigan's atmospheric paintings explore the development of a certain character on a journey towards independence over several compositions. Interactions with ghosts, sentient skeletons, wild animals, and nightfall allude to underlying fears and anxieties in and outside the home. Despite all this, the paintings appear enchanted, summoning the timeless narratives of fairy tales and epic myths. Even with their morose symbols of death and darkness, humor and tenderness permeate Corrigan's work.

Solo exhibitions include Sea View, Los Angeles, CA (2024); Marinaro, New York, NY (2018); Feuer/Mesler, New York, NY (2016); Kerry Schuss, New York, NY (2014); and White Columns, New York, NY (2012). Select group exhibitions include Fierman, New York, NY (2020); Marinaro, New York, NY (2019); Franklin Parrasch Gallery, New York, NY (2018); and KARMA, New York, NY (2016). Corrigan has forthcoming exhibitions at James Cohan Gallery, New York, NY and James Fuentes Gallery, New York, NY (2025).
